Torah commentary by Rabbi Abrami

When Zolophehad of the tribe of Manasseh died, he left five daughters and no son. There was no provision in the existing laws of inheritance at the time for women to be able to take possession of their family estate. The daughters protested and, lo and behold, Moses enacted a new law which made it possible for the daughters of Zolophehad to inherit the estate of their father. All they had to do was marry men from the same tribe so that their tribal land would remain within the borders of the Manasseh territory. So it happened that the law of inheritance was modified to include women right at the beginning of our history as a people. It would later be further modified to recognize the full rights of women in the legal context of property laws. (Numbers, chapter 27.)

The Rebbetzin's Little Project
You might have been to hotels or on a cruise during your travels and collected some of those little bars of soap or bottles of shampoo or body lotion. If you are not using them, please bring them to the office, marked for my attention. They will be donated to organizations that help the homeless. The small size is very important because most of those less fortunate people don't have place to store possessions. You can even bring them to services and give them to me then if that saves you a trip to the office. Thanks. Rosemary Abrami

Rabbi Abrami is in Massachusetts this weekend.
Thanks to Joe Sontag and Nelson Magedman for their contribution to our Shabbat services

We wish "Refuah Shelemah," a speedy recovery to congregants, family and friends who are ill. We encourage you to call or visit with them and wish them well.

If anyone wants a name listed for a mishebeirach, please call the office by Wednesday of the week and the name will go into the bulletin for that week.

A prayer for healing can be said at any time and does not require a minyan. The Amidah (page 113 in Siddur Sim Shalom) shows a format that can be used: "May it be your will, Lord our God and God of our ancestors, to send perfect healing, of body and soul, to _____, along with all others who are stricken".

Mi she-bei-rach a-vo-tei-nu M'kor ha'bra-cha l'i-mo-tei-nu May the source of strength Who blessed the ones before us, Help us find the courage To make our lives a blessing And let us say, Amen	Mi she-bei-rach i-mo-tei-nu M'kor ha-brach-cha l'a-votei-nu Bless those in need of healing With refuah shelemah - The renewal of body, The renewal of spirit And let us say, Amen

"If you feed them they will come" is the joke, but we are offering much more than food!

On Sunday, August 28 at 10:30 am there will be a "Meet and Greet" brunch and information on what is happening at the revitalized Beth Emeth. If you encounter anyone who might be interested in attending, please ask them to call the office on 623-584-7210 to make reservations.
