TAZRIA-METZORA

Outside of her period of separation. As a Jewish marriage is an exercise in bringing sanctity to the human relationship that can most easily become an act of degradation, so the maintenance of this sanctity throughout the years during which the home is built and the future brought into the world depends on the constant purity of the family and the partners who create it.

It is instructive that Jewish women throughout the centuries took the lead, often at great personal sacrifice and hardship, in maintaining this purity, and thereby building their families on a summit of holiness.

It was because of such devotion that Ramban could write that the climax of the Exodus did not come until the Tabernacle was erected, because it was symbolic of the holiness of the Patriarchal Jewish home (see Ramban's Introduction to Exodus).

If anyone wants a name listed for a mishebeirach, please call the office by Wednesday of the week and the name will go into the bulletin for that week.

A prayer for healing can be said at any time and does not require a minyan. The Amidah (page 113 in Siddur Sim Shalom) shows a format that can be used: “May it be your will, Lord our God and God of our ancestors, to send perfect healing, of body and soul, to _____, along with all others who are stricken”.

We wish “Refuah Shelemah,” a speedy recovery to Congregants, family and friends who are ill. We encourage you to call or visit with them and wish them well.

Mi Shebeirach, by Debbie Friedman

Mi she-bei-rach a-vo-tei-nu
M'kor ha'bra-cha l'i-mo-tei-nu
May the source of strength
Who blessed the ones before us,
Help us find the courage
To make our lives a blessing,
And let us say, Amen

Mi she-bei-rach i-mo-tei-nu
M'kor ha-brach-cha l'a-voti-nu
Bless those in need of healing
With R'fu-a sh'lei-ma
The renewal of body,
The renewal of spirit
And let us say,

*Silence in the Sanctuary
Even a few whispered words can destroy the ambiance of prayer & meditation.*
