FROM THE DESK OF MARILYN NEWBERG, PRESIDENT

L'Shana Tovato all our congregants and their families.

For some, it was a difficult year. Some moved away, others passed away, and for a lot of our members there were many health issues. My wish for all of our members, Good Health, Good Spirit, and a positive outlook for the future of Beth Emeth.

Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, we reflect on what was and what is. What can we do to reach out not only to our community, but the communities surrounding us? In order to survive, we must make those communities aware of who we are.

Ramona Luckman, Maxine Popolow, & Bobbi Troy, have agreed to co-chair Programming. They have some great ideas. If you wish to join their committee, get their telephone numbers from the office.

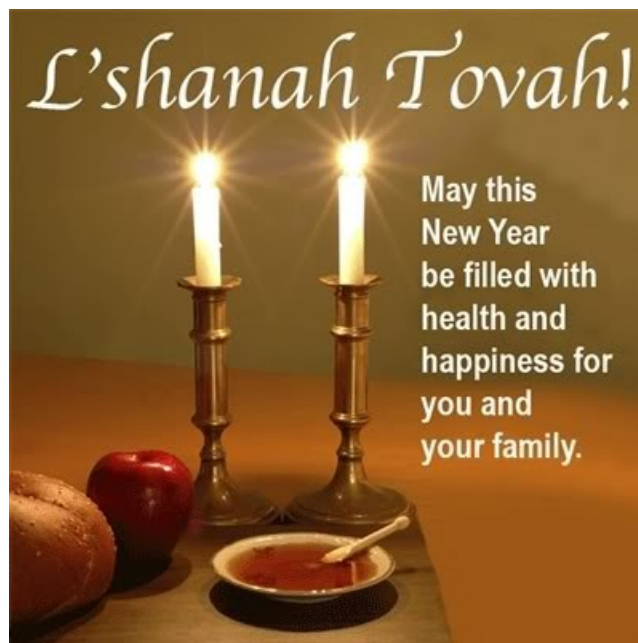

The synagogue has not had a fundraising chair to work with the program chairs in quite some time. Consider helping out.

I want to thank everyone who has contributed to our $10.00 Tuesday's, Book of Remembrance, Film Festival, Yizkor, birthdays, Purim, Hot Dog Days, musical Shabbats, etc.

I look forward to sharing 5780 with you.

Shalom,

Marilyn Newberg

FROM THE DESK OF RABBI TRACEE ROSEN

New Readings for a New Year

First, I want to wish each of you a happy, healthy, prosperous New Year. From my family to yours, we pray for a year of contentment, reconciliation, and peace.

In preparing for this year's Days of Awe, I have had to do some deep thinking and revisiting of certain ways of thinking about important topics. I look forward to sharing these thoughts with you and to opening up conversations that we can continue into the coming year.

While I will discuss these topics at services, I thought some would appreciate an opportunity for some outside reading, either ahead of time or after the fact. So here is my list of recommended books for High Holy Day reading (titles listed alphabetically by author):

The Second Mountain by David Brooks - The New York Times' columnist's look at how people transform adversity in their initial life's journey to a quest for greater meaning, morality, and interdependence in the second & subsequent journeys of their lives. Many inspiring examples of people who are living these kinds of lives on their "second mountains."

Religion for Atheists: A Non-believer's Guide to the Uses of Religion by Alain De Botton - A French atheist of Jewish birth explores how the non-religious can learn from the world's religions how to live and arrange our societies. From building a sense of community, creating lasting relationships, overcoming loneliness, to inspiring travel, and getting more out of art, he points out what religion does right even in the face of disbelief.

We Stand Divided: The Rift Between American Jews and Israel by Daniel Gordis - An historical look at the divisions between Israelis and American Jews, demonstrating that the divide we feel now is not new, and is fundamentally driven by the separate identities of the two largest Jewish communities in the world. Begins a conversation on what might be done to address the divide.

Letters to My Palestinian Neighbor by Yossi Klein Halevi - An American-born Israeli author writes letters to a fictional neighbor visible from his home across the barrier wall in Jerusalem in a Palestinian village. Explaining the historical claim and deep rooted connection of the Jewish people to the land of Israel, he also acknowledges that the Palestinians also have a claim to the same land. How can two peoples with valid claims to the same land ever come to an understanding? Only with pain and compromise on both sides.

Antisemitism: Here and Now by Deborah E. Lipstadt - One of the most distinguished scholars on the topic of antisemitism and the Holocaust writes a primer on the history and pervasiveness of antisemitic conspiracy theories, covering both attacks from the political right and left.

May the New Year bring blessings of peace to the Jewish people and all the nations of the world,
Rabbi Tracee Rosen

ADULT LEARNING AT BETH EMETH CONGREGATION - 5780

First Fridays - A New Learning Service

Dates: First Friday of each month, beginning November 1

Time: 6:30 - 8 pm

Location: Chapel/Library

For beginners and experienced members. Our traditional Friday night service with a twist. Each month we will focus on a special aspect, theme, or prayer from the Shabbat evening liturgy. We will answer your questions about the service, and Jewish prayer in general, to help each person have a more spiritual experience of connection with prayer and community. No fee, open to everyone, Jewish and non-Jewish alike. We will still include familiar songs and the traditional prayers each week.

Weekly Torah Study with the Commentators

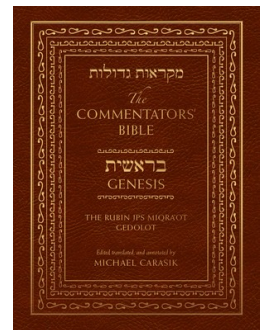

Dates: Thursdays, resuming October 31

Time: 9-10 am (after minyan)

Location: Beth Emeth, Rabbi's office

Cost: Free to members, $10/class suggested donation from non-members.

Instructor: Rabbi Tracee Rosen

Join a lively interfaith group which delves verse by verse into the deeper meanings of popular and lesser known Bible stories from Genesis. Students must purchase JPS' The Commentators' Bible: Genesis (pictured here).

Mini-Courses

This year we are offering a series of 3-4 week classes on a variety of topics to interest everyone. No long term commitment required. Great for our winter residents. All classes meet on Thursdays, 10:30 - 11:30 am. No charge for members, $10/class session for non-members.

What you should know about the Israeli government - November 7-21(3 sessions). A primer on how the Knesset and the parliamentary system works. Who are the major parties, what are their main platforms & how do they decide who gets to hold what offices in the country?

The Book of Judges: Anarchy & Activism - January 9-30 (4 sessions). The least known of the major books of the Bible, we explore a time in Israel's history filled with unlikely heroes & disturbing stories. The more things change, the more they stay the same.

The Lord is My Shepherd - February 13-March 5 (4 sessions). How the most well-known psalm in the Bible can be a source of hope, strength & healing for all of us.

Adult B'nei Mitzvah Class

Dates: Weekly on Thursdays, starting October 9, 2018
Time: 9 am - 10 am
Location: Beth Emeth Library

If you have ever wished that you had a chance to celebrate a bat or bar mitzvah in the synagogue, now is your chance. Under the gentle guidance of Rebbetzin Keren Goldberg and Rabbi Rosen, you'll learn about the Shabbat morning prayer service, how to lead selected prayers, how to have an aliyah to the Torah and master a portion of Torah or Haftarah reading. The culmination will be a group celebration at services on June 6, 2020. There are no prerequisites, but the ability to read Hebrew at any level and familiarity with the Shabbat morning service are both pluses. If you can't read Hebrew, we will work with you to meet your goals. Minimum registration is 4 students.

Register for any of these classes by dropping by the Beth Emeth office, or calling the office to reserve your spot. Some classes require minimum registration in order to be held. Please register by October 23.

The following Yahzeits will be observed during August
Kaddish may be said on Friday evenings and Saturday mornings.
El Malei Rachamim, the memorial prayer, may be said on the Monday or Thursday preceding the Yahzeit at 8:00 a.m. Minyan.
