FROM THE DESK OF MARILYN NEWBERG, PRESIDENT

As we come to the end of one year and bring in another, I would like to reflect on some of the wonderful things that “we” have done.

Last year’s film festival was a huge success. We owe a huge thank you to Irene Lehrer and Harry Newman and their team. The office staff, volunteers who helped procure funds and sponsors, the many hours put in to watching films to select the ones that everyone will enjoy. Thank you all for attending. 2020 is in the works, I am looking forward to finding out what terrific films they have to offer us.

Musical Shabbats, Choir Shabbats, hot dog Sunday, Passover Seder filled with food, fun and the best interpretation of the Haggadah that I have ever been part of. I am looking forward to attending the Passover event of 2020. To all who helped putting up the Sukkah, and having to do it twice, because of the windstorm that tore everything down.

To Cheryl for taking over a very difficult job in the middle of a chaotic time.

What about our Kitchen Elves (not Elvis), the many hours of shopping, preparing, serving and cleaning? Without the help of volunteers, RL & MN would not have been able to do it alone. I am not putting in the names of everyone who gave their time to help us, because, I don’t want to leave anyone out.

We should shake the hands of all the volunteers that conducted the Thursday Minyans, Friday night and Shabbat services the entire year. To the many who read their Haftorah, did Hagbah and Gelilah. To our greeters, and to the ushers, to the ticket takers during the High Holidays, and the volunteers that went to Costco, Sam’s club and all-around Maricopa county trying to buy enough kosher chicken for the Seder.

To all our congregants, by your support and attendance, plus the blessings of Hashem, we will always keep our doors open.

To both my Executive and Director boards. Thank you for time served!

Shalom,

Marilyn Newberg

About 6 years ago, I took my 5-year old daughter to a craft store as I shopped for materials for a craft project I was planning for a Jewish Studies class I was teaching at the day school. Even though it was the middle of August, this particular chain keeps a Christmas section on display year-round. Gazing longingly at the display of lit-up decorated trees, she turned to me and asked, "Ema, someday when we're not Jewish, do you think we could have a Christmas tree?"

I just about plotzed. When I was done laughing, I said with a smile, "If someday that ever happens, we can talk about it then!"

From the earliest age, we all have special memories of the Christmas season. Neighborhoods brightly lit, department store window spectacles, non-stop music on the radio & in the malls.. It all seems so uplifting. And parents and grandparents telling us - this doesn't belong to us. In school we don't sing the songs that mention Jesus; our homes are dark on the outside, and dreidels and latkes don't really match the excitement of Santa Claus. Let's face it, Chanukah just doesn't compete.

So, how DO we respond to the ever pervasiveness of Christmas, whose season now begins post-Halloween and lasts a good 2+ months of the year? What do we do in a world where the dividing lines between the faiths now seem ever more blurred. My response is to welcome it with joy.

In the world my great-grandparents inhabited, Christian holidays were always met with apprehension and fear. "Nittel Nacht," the Yiddish name for Christmas, was a night where men did not go to the study halls & learn, and women refrained from the mikvah, since it was considered dangerous to go out in the streets.

In our day and age, in this country, especially, we are welcome here. Our Christian neighbors open their homes, even their churches. We join with them to celebrate an ecumenical Thanksgiving, and they stand with us in solidarity against antisemitism & hate crimes. Nowhere in the world in all of history have Jews been more embraced and accepted as we are than here in North America. Despite a rise in antisemitic acts among radicals, the vast majority of Americans like and admire the Jewish people.

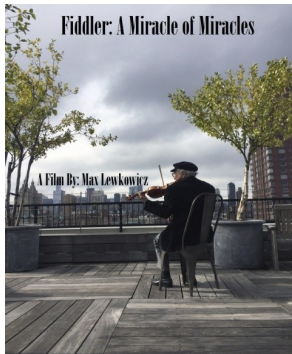

So let's celebrate that. Knowing that it's their traditions, not ours, we still enjoy looking at the lights of decorated neighborhoods. Christmas music, both classic and corny is fun to listen to, and if we're ever in New York at this season, we'll be sure to check out the Macy's window displays.

While the core meanings of our holidays differ, one thing we share in common is the urge to bring light into an ever darkening world. Right at the time of winter solstice, the days are shortest and the feeling is gloomiest. It is then that we humans insist if nature will not provide the light, then it's up to us to light a candle or a log, to bring light into a dark world, make it brighter, give us hope for better days to come. What better way for all of humanity to come together in shared purpose.

May our winter be filled with light, and may we be blessed to share it with all people of all faiths in love.

Rabbi Tracee
