FROM THE DESK OF TOM BEHRENDT, PRESIDENT

L'Shana Tovah, May you be inscribed for Nachas, Mazel and Brachas for 5783

Beth Emeth Congregation—the only Conservative, egalitarian synagogue in the West Valley —invites you to join us for the High Holiday.

On Sunday, September 25, 2022 at 5:30pm we will welcome Rosh Hashanah— New Year 5783— with services led by Rabbi Robert Sternberg and Cantor Judith Levy. Ticket are available at no charge by calling the Office at 623-584-7210. Tickets will be available for pickup on September 1st, from 9 –12 Monday through Friday.

A Memorial Book is available for you to remember your loved ones during Yizkor on Yom Kippur. Break the Fast will be offered following N`ilah at 6:10pm at a cost of $18 to be paid in advance. The form for placing your memorial in the Yizkor Booklet is available on our web site, at the office, and included in this observer. —Deadline for inclusion is September 5th.

Beth Emeth is also actively seeking to expand its membership and will be offering a variety of classes and programs in the Fall. This offering includes Bar and Bat Mitzvah classes for pre-teens and adults.

On a year-round basis we offer—and invite you to share with us—Shabbat services every Friday evening at 6:30pm, Saturday mornings at 9:30 am followed by Kiddush, plus a weekly Thursday morning minyan at 9:00am.

Please call 623-584-7210 to get any questions answered, or just join us at 13702 West Meeker Blvd.

Starting in September, Mishebeirach list will be for a month at a time to make the list more meaningful. Please call the office and we will add the names to be read at all the Services.

We need Volunteers to help with preparing Kiddushes for Shabbos and programs. We hope to be able to start Bingo games open to the community, but before that can happen we need to make sure we have enough help on hand to make it viable. The worst thing that can happen is not having enough people and not be able to run a game. We are also planning Casino night and again will need people to help make it a success.

I would like to remind you that membership at Beth Emeth not only supports the Synagogue but offers Members life cycle events as part of the membership. Your participation is vital to ensure that the Jewish Community has an Egalitarian, Conservative presence in the West Valley.

Words of Wisdom on High Holy Days

This article was submitted by a friend of Beth Emeth, who has asked to remain anonymous.

Rosh Hashana and Yom Kippur, also called the High Holy Days, are the spiritual New Year in the Jewish calendar. In Biblical Israel the High Holy Days marked the beginning of the transition from the dry season to the rainy season. All rain in Israel falls during the rainy season between approximately the end of October and the beginning of April and the crops are totally dependent on adequate rainfall during the rainy season. This transitional period became the time designated for the entire Jewish community to engage in repentance and to pray that G-d would grant a good rainy season that would result in a good annual crop in the coming year.

Many rituals were specially developed to assist Jews in doing appropriate repentance. It became tradition to ask forgiveness from every person one felt had been wronged or whose feelings may have been hurt during the year. In the synagogue, Jews engage in special extra penitential prayers that enable the spirit to properly frame itself for a complete repentance and a complete positive behavioral transformation in the coming year. A series of prayers called Selichot was developed and incorporated into the synagogue liturgy during this period and a special prayer book called a Makhor is used for the Rosh Hashana and Yom Kippur services. The recitation of Selichot begins on the first Saturday night before Rosh Hashana and selichot prayers are also incorporated into the liturgy used during synagogue services. The High Holy Day period culminates ten days after Rosh Hashana in a 24-hour fast on Yom Kippur during which special additional penitential prayers are added to the liturgy. On Yom Kippur a Jew stays in the synagogue the entire day praying for forgiveness and goes home on Yom Kippur evening only to sleep, returning in the morning for an entire day of penitential prayer. No food or drink is consumed on this day until Yom Kippur ends in the evening, when the fast is broken. The shofar is also blown during the synagogue services and is blown every day until Yom Kippur, when it is only blown at the end of the service to mark the end of the Yom Kippur fast. The end of the Yom Kippur service is joyous and celebratory, acknowledging and affirming the hope that G-d has accepted the prayers of the Jewish people and will grant a good and prosperous year in the coming year.

This year at Beth Emeth, Cantor Judy Levy will lead the services at the synagogue. Cantor Levy comes from San Diego, CA specially to serve Beth Emeth congregation on the High Holy Days. Rabbi Robert Sternberg, a member of Beth Emeth who has been leading Shabbat services at the synagogue every Saturday, will read the Torah and give the sermons on Rosh Hashana and Yom Kippur. Other members of Beth Emeth will lead the congregation in English readings. The High Holy Days are a special time of year for the entire Jewish community and all who are interested in joining us and sharing in the High Holy Day services are warmly welcomed. No tickets will be sold but donations are very welcome. Please note the dates and times of services as well as the key elements of the service, like the recitation of Yizkor (Memorial Prayers) and what time of day these are happening.

From the Editor's Desk Too Many Holidays

The months of August and September mark the period when I, as a youth, objected very strongly to having to dress in my finest and attend services at our synagogue. I had no choice, of course, because I was only a kid and had no voice nor vote.

This year, the secular calendar covering these two months includes holidays from Tisha B'Av through the Fast of Gedaliah. I'll try to explain each of these observances in chronological order:

Erev Tisha B'Av begins the evening of Shabbat, on the sixth of August. It is important since it marks the day when both temples were destroyed—the first temple by the Babylonians in 586 B.C. and the second by the Romans in A.D. 70. It is a fast day, beginning at sundown and continues to sundown. The mid-rash states that G-d marked the ninth day of Av as a day of catastrophe because of the spies in the desert. Moses sent spies to the land of Canaan and they returned with a report emphasizing the impossibility of conquering the Promise Land because of the strength of the inhabitants. The people on hearing the spies' report began to weep and complain about being taken out of Egypt. G-d declared, "You wept without cause, I will therefore make this an eternal day of mourning for you."

Tisha B'Av is marked by strict mourning practices and the reading of the book of Lamentations. Even though work is not forbidden, tradition encourages us to minimize the amount of work we do this day.

Tu B'Av (the fifteenth of Av) is of unclear origin but the daughters of Israel used to dress in white and go out to the fields to dance and the young men would follow after them.

Beginning at the start of Elul, the shofar is sounded every weekday of the month.

Fast forward to the end of September, with Erev Rosh HaShanah on the 25th.

According to the book: The Jewish Holidays, a Guide and Commentary, by Michael Strassfeld, the High Holidays are the second major cycle of festivals in the Jewish year. In its narrowest sense, the cycle is composed of Rosh HaShanah (the first two days of the month of Tishrei), observed for two days both in Israel and the Diaspora (except for Reform Jews, who observe it for one day), and Yom Kippur (Tishrei 10).

The ten days between Rosh HaShanah and Yom Kippur are known as yamim noraim, the days of awe. These are days of self-reflection, anxiety, trepidation, humility and soul-searching. It is when we return to the synagogue on Yom Kippur, our prayers are directed to being forgiven for the sins before G-d and our fellowman, so that we start with a clean slate during the new year.

On the first day of Rosh HaShanah, we read the story of Sarah giving birth to Isaac. For us the image of Sarah may be even more important than that of Abraham, the perfect man of faith. We recall that Sarah laughed when she overheard that she would deliver a child. She was, after all, ninety years old. But she did indeed deliver a son, whom she named Isaac, which means laughter.

I am sure we will hear more about Abraham's willingness to sacrifice Isaac and all that transpired on that day, so let's move on to the Fast of Gedaliah, which takes place on the day following the second day of Ros HaShanah.

Who was Gedaliah? He was the last governor of Judea. Following the destruction of the first temple in 586 B.C. the Babylonians appointed Gedaliah governor over the remaining Jews. His death marked the end of any remnant of Jewish sovereignty and led to further dispersal of the Jewish people. It is one of the four fast days concerning the destruction of the temple. This fast day is not widely observed.
